

THREE STATES ARE VOTING TODAY

Major General Leonard Wood
Fighting Against The Field

LIGHT VOTE NOW EXPECTED

Governor Edwards and Cox Have No Opposition

NEW YORK.—When Republicans of three states started to the polls today to vote in the presidential primaries it was a case of Major General Leonard Wood against the field. The situation sized up thus: New Jersey—Wood vs. Senator Hiram Johnson. Ohio—Wood vs. Senator Warren G. Harding. Massachusetts—Wood vs. an unopposed delegation.

They are expected to support Governor Coolidge. The Johnson organization has made a particularly hard fight to carry New Jersey in an effort to obtain a foothold in the east. In spite of weeks of intensive campaigning by both candidates, however, a comparatively light vote was looked for in this state. Political observers believed the California senator had about an even chance to obtain the preferential vote but held that, even in that event, Wood probably would win a majority of the delegates.

In Ohio, Wood was invading another "favorite son" state. The situation was comparable to that in Illinois, where Wood fought with London for control of the latter's home state. Only the names of Wood and Harding were on the Republican ballot. It was believed, however, that Johnson and Hoover might receive many "written in" votes. Some Wood delegates openly declared for Hoover as their second choice, while Harding delegates made similar declarations regarding Johnson.

The Wood delegation had a slate of candidates in many Massachusetts districts. Many of the delegates were unopposed with open leanings toward Coolidge. Many of the delegates were pledged to the governor, however, and at least one had expressed a preference for Hoover. The general headquarters here Tuesday asserted that even if Massachusetts should cast its first ballot in the national convention for Coolidge, the state's second choice would be Wood. Republicans also were to select 14 delegates in a state convention in Washington Tuesday. Senator Pomeroy was expected to endorse Coolidge, the Wood and Johnson supporters had hopes of splitting the delegation.

Eleven Republican primaries have been held Johnson won those in Michigan, Montana, North Dakota and Nebraska. Wood was victorious in South Dakota, New Hampshire and Minnesota, and London carried Illinois and Oklahoma. In New York and Wisconsin, there was no preferential vote, the balloting being on an unopposed delegates.

No "fireworks" was anticipated in the three Democratic primaries. Governor Edward I. Edwards was practically conceded the endorsement of New Jersey and Governor James Cox of Ohio. Followers of William G. McAdoo, expected to see a strong sentiment for their candidate in Massachusetts.

MURDER SUSPECTS ARE ARRESTED

Turtle Lake N. D., Crime Blame Placed On Two.

TURTLE LAKE, N. D.—The arrest of two men believed guilty of the murder of eight members of Jacob Wolf's family here was expected Tuesday. Officers spoke with awe of the chilled steel nerve of the two suspects who mingled with the crowds of curious at the farm home where eight of the family were obliterated. Two guests were at the Wolf home Thursday the day of the murder—since the table was set for Wolf was shot at long range. There was evidence others of the family were killed at short range, probably to silence witnesses. Only the baby was left alive.

Suspicion centered on two men because they had had trouble with Wolf. One recently received a shot in the arm from a mail order house. The wound was similar to that later found in a pond near the house. Two men assisted in removing the bodies from the home and in finding empty shells and other clues.

MILD WEATHER PREVENTS SUFFERING FROM COAL SHORTAGE IN THIS CITY

Mild weather conditions are all that prevent a pitiable situation in the city in regard to coal, according to Mr. Burkhardt.

Two cars of the black diamonds reached the city Tuesday, but one was ordered sent to Ad. by the public utilities commission. Burkhardt dealer has a supply of coal. "With the mild weather, many Lima people are depending altogether on gas," the mayor said. "But if it were February and March, there would be untold suffering," he stated.

CONCERT TONIGHT.
Members of the Bluffton college boys' glee club arrived in Lima yesterday for their tour of the west and completed arrangements for their concert tonight at Memorial Hall. The girls' club returned to Bluffton several weeks ago with the orchestra. All three of the organizations will appear in the combined concert tonight under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

ITALIANS PROTEST ALLIED ACTION

WRECK RAILROADS IN MEXICO

Rebels Control Cuernavaca, Capital of Morelos in Zapata Zone

BATTLE SEEMS IMMINENT

Carranza Official Sent Plea For Ships To U. S.

WASHINGTON.—All Americans who desired to depart, left Mazatlan on the west coast of Mexico April 23, on the steamer Senator, which is due at San Pedro, Calif., Wednesday, the state department was advised Tuesday.

A clash between rebel and federal forces for possession of Mazatlan is now thought to be imminent.

The arrival of eight bombing airplanes at Guadalajara was expected to be announced Tuesday, together with details of the plan of offensive.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The rebel ring of fire and steel is gradually closing in and cutting Mexico City off from the world.

Despite his war department bulletins and vehement protests by President Carranza's aids that the revolution is a local affair in Sonora and will speedily be suppressed, Washington learned thru official channels today that most of the statements contained in the Mexico City bulletin of yesterday are disproved by the facts.

Cuernavaca, capital of Morelos, which state was for ten years the active zone of Zapata, and is now absolutely controlled by his outlaw successors, is in rebel hands. The city is southeast of Mexico City, and the insurgents have cut the railroad. With Jose Sanchez, member of the chamber of deputies, officially reported in revolt at Puebla, Mexico's second city, directly northeast of the capital, and the railway line cut, Carranza has only one outlet open to the east, that is over the Inter-oceanic via Jalapa, in Vera Cruz, the route taken by Gen. Scott in 1847.

This railroad runs directly thru the territory controlled by Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, who captured Tuxtepec last week, and who is operating with Palaez in the Tampico district. That the road will be cut and leave Mexico City isolated from Vera Cruz is believed so certain that Carranza is hurrying troops out today to guard the bridges and tunnels.

To the northwest and over the only road by which the government can send troops to the Michoacan-Colima center of disturbance, the revolutionists have captured Irapuato, an important junction, and cut Guadalajara, Jisco, third city of the republic, from communication with the capital.

This gives the Obregon-Maycotte forces an open road to Manzanillo, an important port dominating the Pacific coast, and isolates Mazatlan, between Colima and Guaymas.

Mexico City today officially admitted what it has denied and evaded for a week—that Maycotte, commander in Michoacan, has revolted and cast his lot with Obregon. They are now operating on the Michoacan-Guerrero border, and Carranza is helpless to send forces to stop them.

That the uprising is not a local affair, was proven when a small force was scheduled to leave today for Oaxaca, where Felix Diaz, a noted revolutionary leader, has been called to the federal of officials have called "pacified".

The troops can not reach Oaxaca since Cuernavaca's defection is proven. Thus Mexico City can only send forces out over the National railway via San Luis Potosi, and they must pass the eastern frontier of Zacatecas, admittedly scheduled, or to the Torreón-Chihuahua country and this line is in danger since Irapuato has fallen.

Dispatches from Anna Prieta revolutionary leaders today said they had received word that Carranza was going to put the entire naval forces of the republic in the Pacific. To do this he will have to send his three gunboats in the Gulf of Mexico thru the Panama canal, if Washington permits.

The rest of the navy's two gunboats, already in the Pacific. Just where they can put in to replenish supplies is unknown, with Guaymas surrendered and Manzanillo and Mazatlan encircled by the revolutionists.

No words has been received as to the whereabouts of the two American cruisers the navy department ordered to Topolobampo, Sinaloa, since captured by insurgents, and Mazatlan, now surrounded by the forces of Gen. Angel Flores, which stormed Culiacan last week.

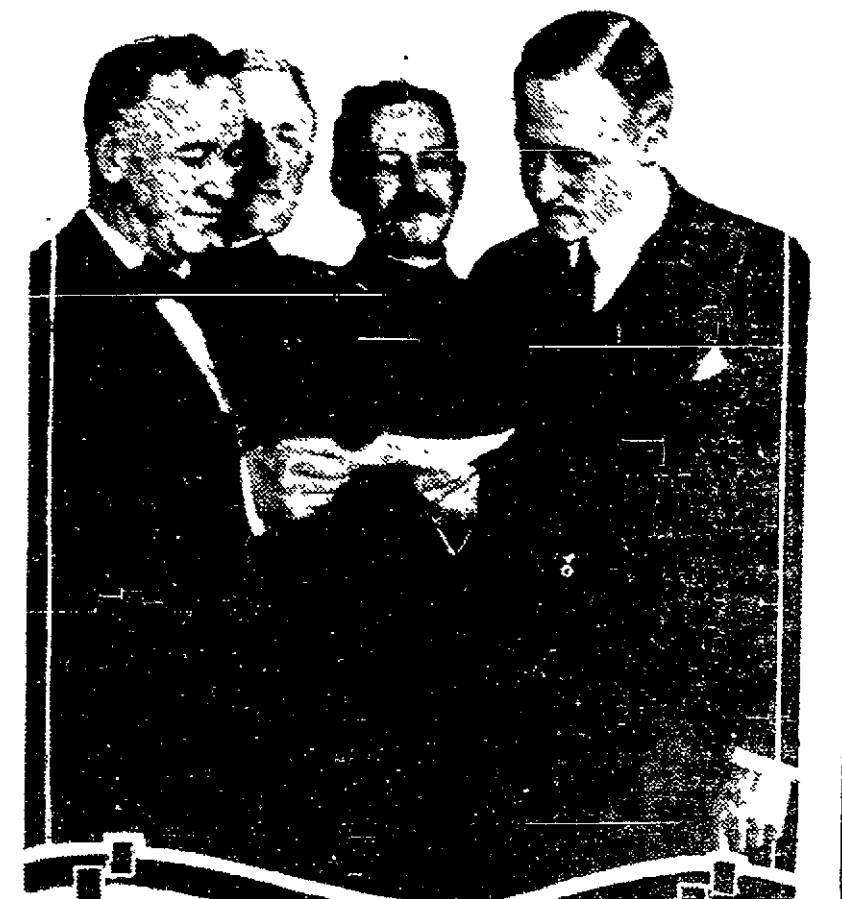

It was learned today that the request for the two cruisers was sent to Washington more than two weeks ago, at the urgent appeal of the Carranza commander at Mazatlan.

A battle between federal troops sent out from Mazatlan to meet the revolutionists marching on that place is imminent.

The revolutionary army under Gen. Angel Flores is rapidly approaching Mazatlan, while the federal forces have withdrawn to within forty-six miles of the city. In retreating, the federal troops are said to have burned bridges and to have thrown up fortifications, apparently with the intention of making a stand.

Other official dispatches received today said that sympathizers of Gen. Alvaro Obregon were being arrested on general orders of the Carranza government.

SECRETARY DANIELS GETS FUNDS TO COMMEMORATE DOVER PATROL

Major Wrench presenting 6,000 pound check to Secretary Daniels.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels has accepted from Major J. E. Wrench, Secretary of the English Speaking Union, a check for $30,000 to be used for the erection of a monument in New York harbor to commemorate the part American naval forces played in the Dover patrol during the world war.

WARN EMPLOYERS WHO SHY LAW

Amendment To Workmen's Compensation Bill Effective May 10

COLUMBUS.—Severe penalties will be exacted from all employers of five men or more who have not paid premiums into the state insurance fund as provided for in the amendment to the workmen's compensation law, which goes into effect May 10.

"Failure of an employer to comply with the law is deemed a misdemeanor," Secretary Hayes of the state industrial commission, said Tuesday. "The employer may be arrested and upon conviction fined not more than $500, and costs of prosecution. The fine will be placed in the state insurance fund."

Under the amendment passed by the last general assembly an employer of five men or more who has not complied with the law will be billed by the industrial commission with the amount of premium from the time he became amenable to the law. If the premium is not paid within ten days, it is mandatory upon the attorney general to immediately make application for a receiver.

DEMOCRATS ELECT SENATE LEADER

Senator Underwood Chosen To Fill Important Position

WASHINGTON.—Senator Underwood of Alabama, was Tuesday elected Democratic leader of the senate by unanimous vote of the minority. The caucus at which Underwood was selected lasted five minutes. Senator Hitchcock, his only opponent, withdrew several days ago in general legislative experience and ability Underwood is considered the equal of any member on the Democratic side. He is the senior senator from Alabama, having been in the upper house since March, 1915. He served in the house previously, achieving a national reputation as sponsor of the Underwood tariff law. His first house term began in 1895.

Underwood is for the league with any reservations necessary to secure a two-thirds vote in the senate, according to his public statements. It is understood he expects to see the treaty brought back to the senate with the hope of obtaining ratification but to just what extent he would interfere with Senator Hitchcock's handling of the situation is in doubt.

CABLE APPEALS DECISION IN HOLLENBACKER CASE

Prosecuting Attorney Cable, of Allen county, Tuesday appealed from a decision of the court of appeals, which granted a re-hearing of the case of Carl Hollenbacher, Lima, who was convicted of first degree murder for killing his divorced wife.

Hollenbacher entered an insanity plea upon his conviction. He is now serving sentence at the penitentiary.

TOWN CHARACTER

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"Fatsy" Mulhern, who recently said that he had attended 1,017 funerals during his sixty years or more as a character in the North End, died at the Rhode Island Hospital after a brief illness. Those who knew "Fatsy" and there were many, associated him with a cotton umbrella, faded green with age, which he always carried.

WAPAKONETA, MIXED UP BY ADVANCED TIME

WAPAKONETA.—Everybody here is "up in the air" concerning time keeping. Council passed daylight saving ordinance, but six industrial plants all schools and many stores do not observe it, preferring standard time. Common Pleas Judge F. C. Layton ordered hands of Court House clock set back when they were moved ahead one hour to conform to eastern time. The Judge said it was illegal.

WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND IN ATTIC

Secluded Den Yields Death
Secret After 20 Years

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—A skeleton of a woman found in the attic of what formerly was a hospital is believed to be that of Carrie T. Selvaige, who disappeared in Indianapolis twenty years ago.

The building is being converted into a garage. The skeleton, which was clothed in an old blue dress, was found in a sitting posture in a corner by workmen who were preparing to place a steel beam in the building.

The dress and a pair of cloth slippers, found beside the skeleton, were identified by relatives of the missing woman. Miss Selvaige had suffered a nervous breakdown and was kept at the hospital when she disappeared. A county-wide search followed her disappearance.

Coroner Robinson today found no evidence of violence after making an examination. He said it practically was impossible to determine whether Miss Selvaige had been carried to the attic.

The building is of unusual construction and the place where the skeleton was found was apparently a second attic. It is believed few, if any persons, knew it was there.

Joseph W. Selvaige said he and his brothers searched the building the day his sister disappeared and that today was the first time he knew of the second attic.

On the morning Miss Selvaige disappeared she had asked the nurse to go to the kitchen and get her some milk. When the nurse returned Miss Selvaige had disappeared.

AKRON.—Chris Sanford, alias Chris Brubaker, 22, Cleveland, shot in the right hip last week while attempting to escape from the police, escaped from the city hospital Monday night.

VOTE IS LIGHT THRUOUT CITY

Less Than 10 Per Cent at Polls
Before 1 O'clock

TIME CAUSES CONFUSION

Returns Expected To Come In Early Tonight

Polls Open Until
6:30 New Time

Reports from voting places at 1 o'clock this afternoon indicated that an exceptionally light vote will be cast in the city of Lima unless voters flock to the polls later in the day. Many precincts said they had not received 10 per cent of the registered voting strength and that the indications were that there will be no general rush later.

The fact that the polls will be open until 6:30 Eastern time may result in a heavier vote than otherwise would be the case. A number of men were disappointed this morning when they went to the polls by city time and found that they could not vote until 5:30 Central time, which prevented many from voting before going to work.

H. E. Simonton, member of the board of elections, said he had made a personal survey of a number of the city precincts before noon and was surprised at the lack of interest being shown.

The greatest interest in the city and county is in the bond issues and the contest between Wood and Harding together with two delegate contests. There is no doubt that Senator Harding will be given a hearty endorsement in this county. It is believed that the Wood strength will be slight. On the Democratic side, James M. Cox will receive the entire support since there is no contest.

Four ballots are handed each voter. Two are for bond issues, one for the expression of presidential preference and the other for the selection of delegates. It is expected that returns will come in early tonight due to the light vote and the simplicity of the ballots.

REDS BOMBARDING HVAROVSK

Airplanes Badly Damage Railroads North of Nikolsk

10,000 Strong Bolshevik forces are bombarding Hvarovsk, according to a communication issued by the Japanese and other allies.

Bombardment from aeroplanes flying over the city has badly damaged a short line north of Nikolsk, the official report said.

The Bolshevik bombardment evidently is directed at the city of Khabarovsk, Hvarovsk is not located in Siberian gorges.

Khabarovsk is the seat of the general government of the Amur, and capital of the littoral province. It is located at the junction of the Amur and Ussuri rivers, on the Ussuri branch of the trans-Siberian railway, about 100 miles north of Vladivostok.

Recent reports of fighting in the Khabarovsk region have made no mention of the use of aeroplanes. The latest reports are taken to mean the opening of a Bolshevik spring offensive.

The invention is based on the principle of the freezing point test. No suitable method of testing accurately and quickly had been invented previous to this one.

ELECTORS CAST BALLOTS TODAY

Interest Centers In Fight Between Harding and Wood

COLUMBUS.—Ohio electors in today's primary were voting to express their preference for the Republican and Democratic presidential nominations and to elect their delegates to the national and state conventions.

Interest centers in the outcome of the fight between Senator Warren G. Harding and Gen. Leonard Wood, endorsement of Buckeye Republicans for the G. O. P. presidential nomination, with both sides claiming they will be victorious.

The battle waged between Harding and Wood focuses up to the very eve of the primary has been one of the most bitter in Ohio's political history, rivalling the Progressive G. O. P. melee of 1912. Harding backers charged that the Wood campaign was one of lavish expenditure and "underrepresentation" and was being backed by interests friendly to the Democratic party. Wood supporters came back with the charge that Harding was a "reactionary," that his boom was nothing more than a "favorite son" movement and that his campaign managers had formed an alliance with Senator Hiram Johnson to stem the "Wood tide," altho Johnson was not entered as a candidate in the Ohio primary.

Wood forces said the Harding party were trying to induce former Progressives to write Johnson's name in on the ballot instead of voting for Wood, thus helping Harding by taking votes away from his rival.

While Harding and Wood are the only avowed candidates on the Ohio Republican ticket seeking presidential endorsement, voters may write names of other candidates on their ballots and a considerable vote for both Johnson and Herbert Hoover is expected from this source.

Democrats faced no contests of importance in today's primary. Gov. Cox had no opposition for re-election by Ohio Democrats as their choice for president and his candidates for delegates to the national convention were unopposed. Former Gov. James E. Campbell is their complimentary second choice.

The Republican fight extends into the contest for national convention seats, both Harding and Wood having candidates for delegates pledged to themselves. Harding has a complete "slate," with four candidates for delegates-at-large and candidates in each congressional district. Wood candidates are running in practically every district, but there are only two Wood men seeking to be delegates-at-large.

Among the Republican candidates for delegates-at-large, H. M. Daugherty, John Galvin, Myron T. Herrick and Frank B. Willis are pledged with the exception of Galvin whose second choice is Wood. The two Wood candidates for delegates-at-large are William H. Boyd and Edward C. Turner, whose second choice is James R. Garfield. Harding candidates for alternates-at-large are Daniel C. Brower, Charles A. Cottrell, Edwin Jones and Harry L. Vail. There are no Wood candidates for alternates-at-large.

It was generally conceded in political circles that unless Harding carries the state over Wood by a large majority his chances for the presidential nomination will have been virtually eliminated and his chances to succeed himself in the senate will be problematical. On the other hand, if he shows great strength in his home state, but fails to land the presidential nomination, his nomination for the senate is considered practically certain.

OTTAWA.—Alvin Payne, son of Mrs. Beale Foote, suffered a badly sprained knee, when he fell while playing.

SCORE PREMIERS DURING CONCERT

Believe Adriatic Dispute Should Have Been Definitely Settled

TERRITORY IS ALLOTTED

Premier Nitti Plans To Meet
Jugo-Slav Representative

SAN REMO.—Italians took advantage of a concert in honor of the visiting allied delegations Monday night to stage a demonstration in favor of awarding Fiume to Italy.

All of the allied leaders who had been attending the sessions of the council of premiers, which closed at 8 p. m. were in the audience. When the orchestra struck up the Italian national anthem, the Italians led by members of the nobility who are staying on the Riviera, rose and turning toward Prime Minister Lloyd George and Premier Millerand, shouted: "Long live Fiume and the Adriatic! We fought for them, but Adriatic is really to President Wilson's 500,000 Italians dead, you gave a whole empire to Greece who murdered your soldiers in the streets of Athens."

Lloyd George and Millerand only smiled resignedly. There was bitter feeling in Italian circles over the failure of the council to settle the Adriatic dispute at the session just closed. It was the more intense in view of the concession granted Greece in the Smyrna district of Turkey, and a rumor that the council completed its reply to President Wilson's Armenian note, but decided the last would not be made public until it had been received in Washington.

It was learned semi-officially the council virtually decided to assign Italy a large economic "zone of influence" in Anatolia, bordering on the Greek zone, which surrounds Smyrna.

The territory is rich in natural resources. Italy also would receive three-fourths of the Heracles (Eregli), midway between Komeli and Adana) coal fields.

The final communique, issued on the council's last session Monday afternoon, said:

"The council approved the last clauses of the treaty of peace with Turkey and also the note to President Wilson, prepared by the British, regarding Armenia."

"It approved the note to Germany and decided to invite German representatives to attend a council meeting to furnish exact information regarding execution of the treaty of Versailles, also to prepare a note regarding the number of troops in the Ruhr and the progressive reduction thereof according to the protocol."

"After attending to the question of destruction of German naval material and trial of criminals, the council adjourned."

The various missions were to leave San Remo Tuesday.

Premier Nitti, of Italy, told newspapermen Monday night he expects to meet Anton Trumbitch, the Jugo-Slav representative within a few days to renew discussions on the Adriatic question, scheduled to be settled at the next meeting of the premiers in Paris.

SUGAR RATIONING IS ADVOCATED

Present Shortage May Result In Complete Famine

CHICAGO.—One round of sugar a week to each household under the present critical shortage is believed was advocated here Tuesday by a whole sale grocer.

According to sugar buyers unless some such voluntary step is taken the appointment of a sugar administrator to regulate price and distribution may become necessary.

The present sugar situation was likened to a famine.

Retailers here are limited to 50 and 100 pound purchases and urged to apportion the sugar in 10-pound allotments to regular customers.

"The situation is a serious one," said one wholesaler. "The crop production was over-estimated and there has been an enormous increase in consumption."

Sugar prices in Chicago went as high as 32 cents a pound retail. Wholesalers were selling around 25 cents. Sugar speculators with carloads on hand were asking wholesalers 32 cents a pound.

OHIO RANKS AS FOURTH IN INTERCHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT FUND CAMPAIGN

BETTER HOUSING IS URGED

Welfare Worker Says City's Future Is At Stake

The health and future character of Lima children are influenced largely by the house in which they live, according to Miss Katherine Reilly, housing inspector, in her report before the Allen-Cox Welfare association Monday night.

Miss Reilly declares it is the biggest problem with which Lima has to cope now, not only from a financial standpoint, but that of interest to the city's mental and moral growth.

She begged for better housing conditions and less money spent on institutions and their up-keep.

Miss Reilly declared she believes in some cases enormous rents were charged in Lima for hovels, but that in other cases the landlords were most reasonable.

She urged that citizens, as a body, protest to city council and action be taken, refusing to allow land agents to open new additions in outlying parts of Lima without the proper sewerage and water conditions, thereby causing dangers to life and robbing children of the sanitary conditions they most require.

Dr. Josephine Pierce, president and one of the foremost women of the city in child welfare work, was re-elected president of the Association. Rev. Franklin A. Stiles was re-elected vice president, Mrs. Guy Bayly, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. William Hall, corresponding secretary.

Reports showed that $177 had been collected to aid the juvenile department of the public library and that 75 new books had been installed.

Mrs. W. J. Galvin is chairman. The amount of $497 is on hand to begin next year's work, report of the treasurer showed. Mrs. Julia Simpson, welfare worker for the Y. W. C. A., told briefly of the work being done by the association in the Morris Arcade.

Mrs. S. M. Williams told of the successful membership campaign, Mrs. W. H. Harper of the Day nursery and Mrs. Eva Creps of Misspah mission.

At the annual dinner in the evening at the Lima club, extended to C. W. Williams, Columbus, state welfare expert, interest centered in the reports of the professional workers in the field. Mrs. Ida E. Nickel, rural nurse, and Miss Anna Moore, field worker.

FIREMEN CALLED TO SAVE BABY FROM BATHTUB

DENVER—Fire apparatus and a dozen firemen responded to the frantic telephone call of Mrs. William H. Engleton, in the fashionable Park Hill section. Instead of finding a conflagration, they rescued two-year-old David Lonsdale Engleton from the bathtub.

Left alone momentarily while his mother prepared a bath, the tot slipped the lock on the bathroom door—the mother on the outside. When the frightened parent heard loud splashing of water she feared the baby might drown, so called out the fire department.

After a record run the firemen stretched an aerial ladder to a second story window and found the baby on tiptoes leaning over the edge of the tub enjoying a good "splash."

GIRL CUT SELF SHAVING LEG FOR OPEN STOCKINGS

LAWRENCE, Kan.—A doctor who attended the session of the University of Kansas Health Committee told a story of a baffling case of a young girl with a bad cut wound above the ankle.

Questioned how she had hurt herself, the girl finally admitted she had used a safety razor. Reason: Open-work stockings.

HUMBLE SHOPGIRL CAPTIVATES PRINCE OF WALES IN PANAMA

ANCON, C. Z.—At least two people in the world are sorry that the Prince of Wales is a Prince. One of them is?

Well, if you wish to know you must read this story of how an American girl of eighteen years taught the Prince of Wales in a few short hours that in some ways at least it would be better to be plain Mr. Wales than to be the Prince of that name.

Carolyn Granberry did this. But she isn't proud of it and perhaps she did not know what she was doing, and she is sorry such a fuss was made about it, and she has no desire to be pictured in the newspaper; in fact, she would rather not. But she is old enough to realize that when a Prince has smiled on one the public has some right to know more about her. So far as Miss Granberry is concerned, she said:

"He is the nicest man I have ever met. I'm sorry he is a Prince."

"A bottle of vanishing cream." "Lardon me; what do you wish?" "I said a bottle of vanishing cream."

The girl behind the counter picked a bottle of the stuff from the shelf in the Panama Canal commissary store at Balboa, wrapped it up and handed it to the woman who stood on the other side of the counter, who was deeply engrossed in conversation with a companion about "the Prince."

The girl behind the counter said herself, as the two women left the shop: "I wonder who this old Prince is?" She took for granted that he must be an old Prince when women old enough to be sewing shrouds were buying vanishing cream to make up for him. So when Carolyn Granberry came that evening she asked her mother about the Prince. Her mother said she didn't know, but she would ask her friend Amanda Moore. Amanda said she was not an old Prince, but a young and handsome Prince; one whom it would be a joy to see, an unspeakable privilege to meet.

But only the very highest people in society, he said, because care must be taken that only people who do not work meet him, and they must wear gloves.

As the time drew near for the arrival of the Prince, more and more the story came to the ears of Carolyn, because girls and women of all ages degrees of fatness and thinness and stages of ugliness came to purchase "face flours" at the counter where she worked. She heard that he owned all of England and most of the rest of the world, that he was not married, not even engaged, that he was coming to Panama on a big battleship, that the British Minister was to give a grand ball in his honor, that the President of the Republic was to hold a reception, that one must curtsy when introduced to him, and that only a few would get a chance to speak to him, and a very few and very select would dance with him. So she gave up the hope of meeting the Prince, and only wished she might see him.

And the stock of vanishing cream and rouge and freckle killers and pimple eradicators grew less and less as the day of the grand ball drew near.

Now it happens that Carolyn Granberry has a little sister, about ten years of age, who dances so well that once when Pavlova was in Panama the divine dancer gave her an audience and commended her. As the talk of the arrival of the Prince spread more general, Carolyn's mother decided she would ask the British Minister if her young daughter might not dance before the Prince. The Minister had no desire in the world except to please the people of Panama and the Canal Zone, and he gladly assented.

That is the reason Carolyn Granberry found an invitation for her family to go to the grand ball, when she arrived from her work on the evening of March 29, and that is the reason she donned her little black frock in joy and elation, and that is the reason she stood and looked out at the Hotel Tivoli that night while the "every select" girls and women marched by in grotesque procession and curtsied in front of the Prince. She quickly ran them over in her memory, called them by the names she remembered, and she thought no more of them, because her eyes were on the Prince.

When the dancing began all eyes were on the Prince, so that Carolyn hardly noticed when a handsome man of twice her age polozized to her mother, and asked if he might dance with her daughter. He was a good dancer too, and as they spun around the floor, Carolyn asked him who he was.

"I am Prince Louis," he said.

"But you are not the Prince," said Carolyn.

"No, I am only a prince," said Louis, "but I'm having a better dance than the Prince is right now."

Carolyn liked Prince Louis, but she peeked under his arm as they danced so as to keep her eye on the Prince. Two dances more went by, and then she saw Prince Louis and the Prince standing before her, while the Prince was asking in a frank, boyish way if she would dance with him.

A ripple of astonishment went around the grand ballroom when the Prince, ignoring ever so many "select women," led Carolyn Granberry, counter clerk and daughter of an electrician, in a dreamy waltz.

"Louis was right," said the Prince, "you are a divine dancer. Then they talked of other things."

One, two, three, four dances the Prince honored Carolyn. But, no; he did not honor her. It was evident to any observer that she was honoring him. The Prince let her know it and she felt it was true.

"One might think he was the shopman and she the Princess," said a disconcerting dancer, while she fairly beamed her delight.

Then the Prince and Carolyn missed a dance, and went out on the broad veranda, into the absurdly lovely tropical night, and looked at the moon and the stars. Many people passed as close to them as politeness allowed, perhaps some were not too polite about it, and one came back from his passing contact and whispered in a lowered voice:

"I heard her call him 'boy.'"

The next day two of the Prince's aides called at the Granberry home in Balboa and took Carolyn down to the battleship Renown, where there was an informal reception.

Miss Carolyn Granberry.

That night Carolyn went to the reception and ball given by President LeFevre of the Republic of Panama, by special invitation of the President. And she danced with the Prince.

The battleship Renown, bearing the Prince of Wales, sailed from the Panama Canal for Australia early the next morning. Many people said:

"I am sorry he's a Prince," she said.

watched the great ship steam slowly down the channel. The Prince stood on the quarter deck, hat in hand, until he could no longer see the white dress of the little girl who waved her handkerchief at him. Then Carolyn Granberry turned back toward the store where she works.

"I am sorry he's a Prince," she said.

ONE SICKNESS

AFTER ANOTHER

When the blood becomes thin a train of trouble is set in motion. In time almost every organ in the body becomes affected, the nerves are upset, indigestion develops and life becomes miserable because of headaches, dizzy spells, insomnia, weakness and sometimes rheumatism and neuritis.

Do not neglect the blood but build it up with the tonic which Mrs. B. M. Walker, of No. 408 Segur street, Toledo, Ohio, used and now enthusiastically recommends.

"A serious attack of mumps and a severe cold were the beginning of my trouble for by the time I had recovered from these my blood was so thin that I was weak and very pale," says Mrs. Walker. "Then my real troubles began for I grew nervous and became so bad at times that it seemed as though I could fly. I didn't sleep well. My stomach was so upset that I no longer enjoyed food. I had pains around my heart during the spells of indigestion and these caused me a great deal of worry. Sometimes my heart seemed to pound like a hammer. I grew very melancholy and there was a dull aching pain in my right side."

"My mother had read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and she was so insistent that I should try them that I procured a box. Within two weeks after I began taking the pills I felt some relief. Then slowly but surely I regained my strength. My blood became richer and improvement was noticeable in my color. I no longer suffer from nervousness or indigestion. I sleep well, have gained weight and feel better in every way than I have in a long time. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to many of my friends."

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. If you are interested write today for the free book, "Building Up the Blood."

Woman Thinks She Can't Talk Enough

"I had call stones for 14 years and suffered severely from gas, colic and indigestion. Doctors wanted me to go to the hospital, but I took May's Wonderful Remedy. Instead, and am now feeling fine and better than I ever did. I can't talk enough about this remedy." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Hunter's Drug Store.

MANY AMERICANS ARE IN NAPLES

Usually Does Not Take Long To Find Some of Your Friends

NAPLES.—Stay in Naples a half hour and you will find someone who knows someone you know.

There had always been a rumor among travellers that if you stand long enough in the Place de l'Opera in Paris you will see some one you know, but in Naples you do not have to wait.

Descend from the train and there is a swarm of faquinos. Their principal object is to obtain the job of carrying your baggage, but their next inquiry is: "Please, sir are you from South Chicago?" Probably you are not. You may be from Seattle and proudly say so, whereupon a nearby faquino rushes up, swears eternal allegiance to Seattle and asks how the Mayor is getting on.

You may get past the faquinos, and your cabman surely will demand the city of your birth. The neighboring one will hear you declaim your city and demand that you occupy his stately chaflet. At any rate the hotel porters will be familiar with your city and State. The barber in the hotel will leave you the matter of a shave to someone, a neighbor who will stand flashing an ivory smile and inquire whether the Alderman of the old Tenth Ward is still holding out, and will stiffen up and inform you proudly that he was one of the original supporters of that same high and mighty official. Chief of police are, perhaps, the most popular among the residents of Naples, for in that city is not the chief of police who is known man in the foreign quarters.

Naples has supplied more emigrants to America than any other city in Italy. Those who have not been there are going. Some are deterred by straitened circumstances, but they have friends who are begging them to come. Others came back to the wars before America entered; more came home after serving in the American armies to look after aged relatives or to close up little accounts with a view to making a permanent home in the land for which they fought. There are thousands in Naples and many more thousands in the United States who sing the praise of America.

At the United States consulate each day there are hundreds of the reservists who came with food and for the Allies under the Italian flag. On the other side are hundreds more who are going to America for the first time. The consulate is swamped. Italian carabinieri and even borrowed soldiers and sailors help keep the crowds in line, while the weary clerks go through the daily task of stamping visas and settling thousands of minor troubles. So hard pressed has the consulate been since January, when the flood of reservists started, that the American Red Cross has loaned the services of four expert clerk-interpreters to Consul B. Henry Carroll, so that the return of the reservists may not be delayed. The consulate is open from morning to night, but through the week have passed the crowds that appear with dawn over the bay are still as large as ever, waiting for the magic paper that will really give them the coveted "American."

SHARK SKIN SHOES MAY CUT FOOTWEAR PRICES

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Shoes of shark skin may be the long sought for panacea for the high-cost-of-footwear evil, according to papers read at the national convention of the American Chemical Society, here. The papers revealed the results of experiments by various expert chemists to find substitutes for leather.

Shark skin was one of the many fish skins experimented with, and, according to the scientists, it was found that a leather similar to that of cattle and other animals could be produced thru certain chemical processes.

WELLKNOWN ALGER FARMER COMES OUT WITH A STRONG ENDORSEMENT FOR NUXITE

SAYS HE CANNOT PRAISE IT TOO HIGHLY

I WAS ALL RUN DOWN

MY LIMBS WERE SORE AND STIFF COULD HARDLY WALK, POOR APPETITE

You bet I am glad to recommend Nuxite. I feel it is my duty to do so after what it has done for me. Mr. A. H. Berry said. I am an old resident of this county, everybody knows me, I was 79 years old March 16th, 1920, and live on my farm at Algier, Ohio, a few miles out of Lima. Continuing, Mr. Berry said, I would not think of the Lima papers without I thought of Nuxite. I can say truthfully Nuxite has given me good results. For some time I have been bothered with a slight stomach trouble, nervousness and run down system, no energy or ambition, did not feel like doing anything. My limbs were stiff and sore, could hardly walk around on my farm. At times I was a little worried about my condition. I read quite a lot in the Lima papers about a medicine called Nuxite that is being sold at Hunter's Public Square Drug Store, Lima, Ohio. Two or three weeks ago while in Lima I purchased a bottle of Nuxite, took it home and began to use it. After I had taken one bottle I could no-longer quite a change. My appetite seemed better, stiffness and soreness in my limbs are much improved. In fact I feel stronger, better than for some time. My stomach is getting in good shape. I can eat most anything I want. I have more ambition to work. As I said before, I can recommend and am pleased to have the opportunity of telling my friends what I think of the great medicine.

The Nuxite Mr. Berry refers to is being explained at Hunter's Public Square Drug Store, Lima, Ohio, by W. R. Cooper, and may be obtained at Theo. Stewart, St. Marys, Ohio; H. C. Richardson, Spencerville, Ohio; Forest D. Christian, Sidney, Ohio; J. W. Lewis, Columbus Grove, Ohio; J. W. Wahlhoff, Delphos, Ohio; Frank Hutter, Beaverdam, Ohio; Rexall Store, Bluffton, Ohio; J. C. ## MARMALADES

Orange Marmalade—Allow pound for pound. Pare half the oranges and cut the rind into shreds. Boil in three waters until tender and set aside.

Grate the rind of the remaining oranges (take off and throw away all the thick, white inner skin). Quarter all the oranges and take out the seeds. Chop or cut in small pieces, drain all the juice that will come away without pressing them over the sugar. Heat this until the sugar is dissolved, stirring to prevent burning, adding a very little water unless the oranges are very juicy.

Boil and skim five or six minutes, put in the boiled shreds and cook ten minutes, then the chopped fruit and grated peel and boil twenty minutes longer. When cold put in small jars and seal.

Lemon Marmalade is made as you would orange, allowing a pound of a quarter of sugar to a pound of fruit and using half of the grated peel.

Fruit Marmalade (delicious)—One pound peaches, one pound pears, one pound plums, two oranges, two lemons, one half pound raisins.

Put all these food chopper. Add three and one-half pound sugar. Boil one-half hour. Add one-half pound chopped nuts.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Spinach and Nut Salad—A small quantity of cold boiled spinach cut fine, half of an apple sliced thin, pimento cheese, mix with mayonnaise and serve.

Rice in Dried Beef Casserole—Take left over boiled rice, cook a little longer than usual so grains are very soft, mix with one beaten egg, form into sausage shape, roll and wrap each roll in a slice of dried beef, pierce with a toothpick, trim off the ends to look nice.

Fry in butter substitute, remove to platter, make a white sauce on the skillet, pour over rolls and serve.

Stewed Dried Peaches—Pour one pound dried one-half pound dried peaches, covering them all over, let stand a half hour, then add all the skins off, perhaps a few will not come off but most of them will.

Add fresh water to the skinned peaches and boil slowly one hour, keeping them well covered with water, then add three-quarters cup of sugar and boil fifteen minutes long.

Olympus Pudding—Mix corn starch, blue mace, separate into four parts, placing white on bottom of mold, stir into second part, tablespoon of chocolate and pour on top of white, color and flavor third part with fruit, using dried pineapple and last, pour fourth over after adding yolk of egg.

When cold cut into slices and serve with whipped cream and walnuts, chopped fine.

Spanish Salad—Select ripe but not soft bananas and cut into thin slices with a silver knife. Shell English walnuts to one-third the quantity of bananas. Press nut thru a grinner or chop fine. Mix fruit and nuts lightly and heap them on a platter covered with crisp lettuce leaves. Pour mayonnaise dressing over the whole, taking care that it is seasoned sharply with cayenne pepper.

Molded Apples—Six tart apples, one-half cup cold water, two teaspoons gelatine, two cups sugar, juice of one lemon, two cups boiling water.

Soak the gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Make a syrup of the sugar and boiling water. Pare and core the apples and cook in the syrup, turn them often.

Apple Syrup—Extract juice as for jelly, making and cook down to a medium consistency. Bottle and seal. Use as a middle cake or pudding sauce, or for steamed rice.

For kitchenette cookery, a aluminum emelton pan is very useful, as both sides can be used for frying different foods at the same time, and using but one burner.

If you are using the yolk of eggs, the whites can be kept by placing in a glass and covering with a damp cloth.

Try using celery for flavoring when cooking fish.

How Ladies Improve Looks!

"Many ladies old and young suffer a round of torture with their nerves and many are so frail that they cannot eat that then splendid features. That slight of while a vain attempt to conceal the signs of age, the figure becomes one but the features of the face are the only thing that the world can see. A well known large lecture at a young ladies college 'I do not mind exposing a little secret of mine to all, but I do not want to have my health it is simply the fact that a thin bloodless, nerve-tortured man or woman can become as fit as the fittest by taking regularly for several months a really obtained pharmaceutical product known by the profession and pharmacists as three-grain hypodermic tablets, put up in sealed packages with directions for home use."

THREE DIVORCE SUITS FILED IN LOCAL COURT

Three suits for divorce were filed in court succession late Monday afternoon, in common pleas court.

W. W. Houtz charges adultery against his wife Harriet, with whom he has lived 19 years. They are the parents of five children, ranging in age from 13 to three years.

Delphia Hopkins, Baltimore and Ohio railroad engineer, asks a decree from Loraine E. Hopkins, to whom he was married in March, 1911. He says that while they were living in Miami, Fla., in 1917, he came home to find the house stripped of its household goods and his wife gone with another man.

Mrs. Florence E. Race charged desertion by her husband, William H. Race, to whom she was married in July, 1912. They have a daughter seven years old.

CONVICT SHOTS WAY OUT OF TOLEDO JAIL

TOLEDO—Jay King, 36, shot his way out of the Lucas county jail Tuesday morning and then fled seven blocks, pursued by police and deputies before he was caught. Many shots were fired.

King had been charged with neglecting his children.

Shots fired in the jail were directed at Deputy Sheriff Leo Noonan, who was shot and severely wounded on Christmas Eve when four prisoners escaped from the jail.

FACTORY CLOSES

ELVIRA—Lack of raw materials caused the General Phonograph Company to close its plant here Tuesday. Nearly 1,000 workers were made idle. Officials said the shut-down would be indefinite.

WAR DEPARTMENT ASKS ABOUT LANDING FIELD

Mayor Burkhardt received a communication from the war department Tuesday, asking as to the feasibility of establishing municipal landing field for airplanes in Lima.

With the communication was a questionnaire to be filled out as to the specifications.

Mayor Burkhardt said he believed a field might be established on ground owned by the state north of the city, attached to the state hospital. A lease by the city or Chamber of Commerce would be necessary, he said.

Mayor Burkhardt has referred the matter to the Chamber of Commerce which has under consideration the plans of the agent for airplanes.

EXPECT RECORD FRUIT CROP—HENRYETTA, Okla.—"his district has prospects for the largest fruit crop in the history."

Plums, pears, apples are in fine shape. Cherry trees already are loaded with buds. Peach trees by far the greatest in number, have dropped their blossoms.

$100 SAID TO BE ENOUGH FOR YEAR'S CLOTHES

DI PROFT, Mich.—Replies from sixty questionnaires selected at random from blanks sent out some time ago by the Young Housewives' Association, according to Miss Bessie C. Lee, head of the association, support the contention that a man in average circumstances can dress for approximately $100 a year, even in these days of the high cost of clothes.

The budget as made out by Miss Lee calls for an overcoat for $28 to last three years, one suit at $28.82, an extra pair of trousers, $4.87, two pairs of overalls, $3.96, two light shirts, $3.75, four colored shirts, $4.72, two pairs shoes, $13.24, with $3.00 for repairs, one pair rubbers, $1.42, eight pair socks, $3.44, two heavy union suits, $3.44, three light ones, $4.50, two sets drawing garments, $13.34, suspenders, 60 cents, four collars, $3.12, two neckties, $1.00, one pair gloves, 91 cent, two hats, $5.75, sundries, 60 cents. Total $100.59.

One questionnaire filled out by a married man earning $2,000 a year, with an additional income of $2 a month from a roomer, estimates the amount spent by him for clothing at $115 a month, with $15 for his wife and $185 for his seventeen year old son. This family pays $50 a month house rent, and $60 covers the cost of food in the home, with $15 for outside life.

A common laborer earning $1.00 a month has a wife and seven children to support. House rent costs $25. The food estimate is $45 in the home and $8 outside. The clothing is divided into $6 a month for the husband, $5 for the wife, and $11.66 for the seven children.

AN EXPLANATION—BECAUSE IT DOES SOUND STRANGE

It is not at all unlikely that quite a few folks will read the above with some surprise. They will try to reconcile a sale of $10 to $15 Shoes at $8 with all they've been reading about the alarming advance in footwear. The explanation is, both are true and the answer is this: WE ARE MERCHANTS—NOT SPECULATORS.

The size range in a great number of our Spring styles has already become broken. We must move these out right away.

So here you have the explanation of the paradox of wholesale prices going up—and our prices being lowered for this special occasion.

CLEVELAND MAYOR RESIGNS MAY 1

Harry L. Davis To Begin Gubernatorial Campaign In Ohio

CLEVELAND.—Mayor Harry L. Davis of Cleveland will go out of office Saturday May 1, to prosecute unencumbered his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor. He will be succeeded by Daw Director William S. Fitzgerald, his close political and administrative associate for the past four years.

Davis is serving his third successive term as mayor and May 1 will conclude four months of the third term. Davis' popularity was at high tide at the last election, for he carried every ward in the city and rolled up a majority of 40,000 votes. His candidacy for governor is based on the unusual support accorded him here.

NOTICE.
Dr. G. A. Bachmayer has resumed his practice and the office is now open.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness to us during the sickness and death of our daughter and sister; also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Defies Age by Using Howard's Buttermilk Cream for Complexion

This Pretty Girl Tells Druggists Not to Take Anyone's Money Unless This Delightful New Cream Quickly Shows a Decided Improvement.

Buttermilk cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of age after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most hated atmosphere, will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows' feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream. Hunter's Drug Stores can supply you. Manufacturers: Howard Bros. Chemical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

PORTS SUITS FOR SUMMER COMBINE DIFFERENT SILKS

BY ELOISE

Sport suits for the coming summer are showing a strong tendency to combine plain and figured materials. There are many suits being shown now which have jackets of a plain material in black, white or a color, and then they have skirts of the same color or contrasting colors, or vice versa. These suits may be developed in cutting flannel or in serge made up in fancy or novelty silk and shantung or pongees.

This smart suit is of a cream-colored silk. The coat which is a plain belted model trimmed with pockets, is of the plain material, while the accordion pleated skirt is cream color with purple figures in it. The collar and cuffs of the coat are also of figured material. Perhaps the smartest note about the whole outfit is the hat which seems to have been made particularly for this suit. It is of the same cream silk and is braided all over in purple. Such a costume as this for summer makes a woman feel well dressed and fashionable no matter what the occasion.

MRS. BARRETTE TELLS OF SPLENDID RESULTS

Prominent New Hampshire Woman Says Tanlac Brought About a Wonderful Change in Her Condition.

MRS. AUOREORE BARRETTE, Of Manchester, New Hampshire.

"Tanlac is a grand medicine, and I think every suffering woman ought to know about it," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Aureore Barrette, at her residence, 133 Second Street, Manchester, New Hampshire. Mrs. Barrette is a well known and highly respected resident of that city.

"I have not felt at all well for the past year or more," she continued. "I haven't been sick enough to be in bed, but I was far from being a well woman. At times I thought I had kidney trouble, for I suffered constantly from severe pains across my back, just over the kidneys. Whenever I tried to do any housework at all that dull pain would be there, and if I attempted to stoop over it just felt as though my back would break. I would get so weak and worn out I would have to sit down and rest several times a day, and I felt tired all the time."

"This condition made me awfully nervous, so that I rarely ever slept well at night, and every now and then I would jump in my sleep, as if in a fright, and my condition was really becoming serious."

"Only two bottles of Tanlac have brought about a wonderful change in my condition. In fact, the results I have received from this medicine have really surprised me. Those terrible pains in my back which used to trouble me every day have almost disappeared, and I am going to keep on taking Tanlac until they leave me entirely. I have lots of energy now and am not only able to do my housework, but I get through the day without feeling the least bit tired. I am no longer nervous like I was, and I sleep well at night."

"I shall always be thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug stores and the leading druggists in every town.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule
not by the Rule of Gold

WHAT ARE the most precious elements in American Life?

Respect for the home? Jesus found women slaves; He made them companions. Down through the ages His Church has been the champion of women's rights and aspirations.

Respect for the man who works? It was the Carpenter of Nazareth who gave labor its great charter. "You are sons of God," He said. In that sentence Democracy was born.

Respect for property? Modern business is credit; and credit is character. All that makes property safe in the world is bound up in the reverence for law that religion breeds.

Respect for education? Who gave America her colleges? They were founded by Christian ministers, almost all of them.

On these great essentials must we build a better America, and a better world. And every one of them rests on the foundations of the Christian Church.

Thirty denominations of that Church are uniting now in a simultaneous campaign.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the Church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The appeal is to every lover of America, to you whether you are inside the Church or out. The rebuilding of the world is a spiritual task. Faith must be the cornerstone on which the new foundations are laid true; the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

Give when the call comes to you—give with your heart as well as your pocket-book

Our druggist, who is a doctor, said Vinol was the best tonic he knew for her. We tried it and you ought to see how she has improved by its use."—MRS. LEONARD W. GEORGE, LEWIS.

Belvidere, Ill.—"My little girl twelve years old had Whooping Cough and Scarlet Fever one right after the other and she was so weak and run-down that she had fainting spells and headaches. # "Heart of A Child" Is Coming Soon

By ESTHER WAGNER

NAZIMOVA will be shown here soon in "The Heart of a Child."

The story is the one which movies present week after week—the story of a ragged miss who weds a young man of wealth.

This time he also has a title. The boy is the son of a millionaire and the girl is the daughter of a pauper. The time the girl lives in London. She can dance. Yes! She dances in the street to the tune of a grind-organ. They all do!

Sally is the girl's name. She goes to work in a factory. A lady of title runs an automobile over the miss and gets her a job in a modish shop. The lord finances a revue and falls in love with her. The lady of title conspires to discredit the dancer's charm removes all obstacles, and she marries Lord Gilbert.

Elsie Janis

Faurot—"Hail! Hail! The gang's all here!" And at the head of his America's beloved comedienne, Elsie Janis! or they will be here Saturday matinee and night at the Faurot Opera House.

To mark her reappearance on the American stage, Miss Janis has prepared a unique offering, which she describes as a bombproof revue in two acts, adding that there are some songs, some jokes, some hoots, and some band. And incidentally, some girls!

The revue is a decidedly informal one, and is based on the nature of the work done by Miss Janis during the time she spent in entertaining the boys of the American Expeditionary Forces in France and in England.

"See-Saw"

Faurot—"See-Saw" will present "See-Saw," the latest of his musical comedies at the Faurot Opera House for one night only, Tuesday, May 4th.

"See-Saw" comes direct from its New York and Chicago runs, and is a typical Henry W. Savage show. It means a careful and elaborate production, a host of pretty girls and beautiful women and competent principals.

The cast includes Dorothea Mackaye, Frank Carter, Jeannette Lovrie, Charles Brown, Mabel Bunyoo, Guy Meekins, Marjorie Edwards, Guy Robertson, Beatrice Collette, George Barber, Dorothy Gilbert, Charles Esdale, Jr., Paul Callan, Hamilton Mott, Harry Quealey and Bryan Halstead.

U. W. Griffith has turned to comedy. And it is of more than passing interest to note that the very play in which he has allowed comedy to predominate was produced in the very midst of tragedy. The "Idol Dancer" is a love story of tropical South Sea islands and features pretty Clara Seymour as the idol dancer and Richard Barthelmess as the beachcomber. Pauline Frederick is showing at the Regent for the last time today in her clever mystery picture, "The Woman in Room Thirteen," in which the photographer is given a crime to solve.

FAUROT—ETHEL CLAYTON

It is a diverging mixture of melodrama and light comedy with which Ethel Clayton entertains at the Faurot where her new play, "More Deadly Than The Male," opened today. The title is of course from Rudyard Kipling's famous story upon which the female comedian is showing at the Regent. Clayton is a poet, especially when seeking to prove it.

Added features of the program include the Faurot New and a new Paramount comedy, "Teasing The Soil," with Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven in the leading roles.

ETHEL CLAYTON—"The Woman God Sent."

A Schenck special which began a three-day engagement at the lyric theatre Sunday is an original love story by Sophie Irene Lock tinged with politics as played from the time and with a bearing on some of our modern problems of the present day. In it Zena Keefe and Joe Kingshead of one of the largest casts seen on the screen in some time, a novel idea in the plot is introduced when the star does not appear in the first part of the picture, which is in the nature of a prologue, but makes her appearance after the plot has gotten well under way.

Stomach So Bad She Had Lost All Hope

Suffered agony for 8 years, and then got well in a hurry.

"I suffered from stomach trouble for 8 years—had acute indigestion for 4 years. All that time I have not slept a wink before 2 in the morning, and lived on milk, and soup. My stomach was one solid sore.

"Doctors said I had catarrh and neuralgia of the stomach, also female trouble for which I needed an operation. I was nothing but a living skeleton and had given up hope.

"Then my husband brought home a bottle of Milks Emulsion. From the second dose, I began eating, and now, after 10 bottles, I eat anything I want. I haven't had a pain in my stomach since the first dose, and my female trouble is fast disappearing."

—Mattie Cartwright, Tyler, Texas.

The blessed relief which Milks Emulsion gives in stomach trouble, is only part of its good work. The benefit is both prompt and lasting. It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physies. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Case of Mr. W. C.

Mr. W. C., Lima, Ohio, age 50, came to my office on March 19th, very weak and nervous, and in an exhausted condition. From "two months" intense suffering from sciatic rheumatism and lumbago. Had treated constantly all this time without relief.

MARCH 20th, dose of "Special Blood" treatment given, within two or three days pain easing up and by the end of a week was feeling comfortable and getting his natural sleep. And when time was up to take his second dose, said it was no use to take more as the first dose had cured him. We know he should have at least two more doses for a permanent result, but when the patient decides that he knows better than his doctor there is nothing to do but let him go his way. The results of this one dose was beyond expectations. This patient will gladly verify this report.

Like results can be expected in a large list of chronic diseases, such as Bronchial Asthma, Gout, Rheumatism, Skin, Blood, Nerve, and Glandular diseases.

HOME BREW

DRINKS made at home are blamed by Lima police officials for the large number of cases of intoxication coming within their observation now. It is their belief that there is little of the old stock left and that the men who get into trouble now are using concoctions made on their cookstoves or the stoves of someone else.

Nominally the nation is bone dry; actually, it is almost as moist as ever but with a strange, new, amateur, home-made moisture. Everybody's brewing it, but they are all brewing it in different ways. They meet and exchange experiences, formulas and samples and never in the history of the country was there such a widespread interest in the chemistry of intoxicants.

Some librarians have censored all volumes containing information on the subject of brewing, vinting and distilling, and there are gaps in their encyclopedias, but the literature of enlivening liquids is very extensive and accessible. Even if it were not, the human instinct for making draughts with a "kick" would come to the rescue of the industriously thirsty.

The earliest nature study revealed the plants from which some form of "joy juice" may be extracted. The most benighted of savages were quick to seize upon the herbs with a latent jolt or a narcotic balm. Huxley says that savage man's first step towards civilization was when he devised some way of qualifying his water, and scientists tell us that civilization is many thousand years older than some of us may believe.

It will be interesting to observe the results of the prevailing enthusiasm for the study of chemistry. The search for new explosives is as nothing compared with the search for new ways of getting an internal "kick."

MORE MONEY WASTED

THE State of Ohio is spending a large sum of money today to carry on the presidential preference primary. Indications are that only a very small percentage of the people will cast their ballots, hence it is not reasonable to believe that the results will be representative of the entire state.

With no contest on the democratic side, members of the party feel that there is little to be gained by going to the polls. There is a contest on the republican side, but it is so overwhelmingly one-sided that there is little interest except in giving a hearty endorsement to one of the state's "favorite sons."

The only thing Allen-co and Lima will receive from the primary will be a vote on bond issues. They may carry and they may be voted down. At any rate it will be a small percentage of the people expressing their approval or disapproval at the best. The primary today is an expensive affair from which there is practically no benefit and which is far less representative than the old convention system.

RE-MARKING THE STREETS

SERVICE DIRECTOR McCLAIN will ask council to appropriate money with which to re-mark the streets. He advances as an argument in favor of this work that he and another city official, both of whom know the city as well as the ordinary citizen, were unable to find a certain street for which they were looking.

If these men could not find a street, the general location of which they knew, how could a stranger be expected to get about the city? The re-marking is badly needed and while council is short of funds, it is to be hoped that it may be able to devise a means soon to finance the work.

When the re-marking is taken up it would be well for the city officials to straighten out the street numbers. Some of our street numbers are so badly mixed up that it is almost impossible to find the house for which you are looking. Some streets have two or three sets of numbers; some start in the middle of a block, jump across the river and are generally confusing. Re-marking and re-numbering of the streets of Lima would be a big service to the public in general.

MAKING STANDARD BOOTS

ENGLAND has hit upon a plan for making standard boots in its program for dealing with the cost of living. They are to be "good, reliable, tough-wearing" shoes, of the "bread-and-cheese" variety, and do not include fancy sorts.

The scheme has been worked out with the manufacturers, who are to get a net profit of five per cent. The manufacturing cost is put at $7, percentages are added for selling costs and the profit, and the price to the wholesaler is approximately $8.50. The wholesaler and the retailer get their expenses out of an allowance of $2.50, and the retail price of $11 is stamped on the sole when the shoes are made.

MISS LIMA:—"Of course, the overalls for the ladies will have to be not more than knee length. We may expect to see the latest overall styles direct from Paris as soon as the first heat gets in."

IN CANADA

What is the progress of proportional representation as urged by City Manager in Canada?

Its progress there has been rapid. It is used by Calgary, Alberta, several cities in British Columbia, including the two largest, Vancouver and Victoria, and also in Winnipeg. The legislature of Saskatchewan has passed a law making proportional representation optional for cities in the province. Ottawa adopted it but was prevented from putting it into effect because it could not be permitted under existing laws in the province of Ontario. The Ottawa council has petitioned the legislature for the necessary change and the premier of Ontario has declared in favor of it.

Irresponsible Motherhood

Those pitiful defects of nutrition known as "marasmus," "malnutrition," "atrophy," and similarly unpleasant names are really due to poverty in some cases but far more often they are due to irresponsible motherhood, as my father calls it. In his practice he says that irresponsible motherhood is one of the greatest obstacles he has to contend with. Irresponsible motherhood father means mothers who assume they have a right to experiment on their own babies and to permit any casual caller or acquaintance or corner druggist or "practical" nurse to experiment on them.

The most deplorable error into which these easy-going doctors and irresponsible mothers fall is the belief that any so-called "infant food" which happens to "agree" is the proper food for the baby. No one would for a moment assume that because beef broth or pickled pears have happened to agree with an adult the adult's diet should consist of beef broth and pickled pears. But this kind of reasoning goes for the baby!

Many of the proprietary foods are so loaded with sugars or starches that they quickly produce obesity in the baby—flabby, pale anemic fat. And so abnormal is the popular conception that many parents actually welcome the appearance of this disease state in their babies. Why, so popular has obesity become among the more ignorant classes that a normally nourished baby, one weighing what a baby of his age should weigh, is deemed "fat!"

The indispensable accessory factors in a baby's food are known as vitamins, and without them a baby cannot possibly grow and develop normally. Fresh milk is rich in vitamins. Fresh meat broths, fresh fruit juices and fresh vegetables cooked and strained through a sieve, also contain more or less vitamins.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Camouflage for Boar
When I was six years old I was operated on for bone-in. The operation was a perfect success, except that there has always been a white scar at the line of the lip, which is very noticeable as my complexion is rather ruddy. Can anything be done to improve that? (S. O. W.)
ANSWER—That scar may be tattooed with pink to blend with the adjacent skin. Of course that would be a procedure only for a surgeon or skin specialist.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

The influence of the stars is equally divided today. Caution in business undertakings is a wise course today.

Women who wish places of authority will find this an auspicious rule.

Again the stars indicate political disappointments for army officers. The marriage of the Prince of Wales within the year is foretold. Persons whose birthday this is should avoid travel and change this year.

Children born today will have an active life and many adventures. (Copyright 1920).

The Woman Who Loved--And Earned

A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS
THE POVERTY PARTY.

Betty ushered us into the living room, where all but Marion were assembled. I noticed Robert looking sharply about, but he said nothing.

"We'll wait here until Marion comes," Betty said, after we had greeted all present. I could not avoid seeing, and being pleased, at the flash of pleasure in Gardner Kenyon's eyes when he thanked me for being the reason for his being there. But everyone was so hilarious and looked so ridiculous in their old costumes, that we had no time for any further conversation just then.

"You look lovely, Gerry!" Mary said. "Where did you get that dress?" I never saw you wear it." "It was the one she had on the day I got up courage to ask her to marry me," Robert said to my surprise. He had not mentioned it when I put it on.

"No wonder he wanted to marry you!" Jane broke in. "It is lovely on you."

The dress was a soft satiny thing of a faded sort of Alice blue—a color I had worn constantly as a girl, but which I had discarded since my marriage.

Just then Marion came in. "Better late than never!" she said, as she took off her coat and revealed herself dressed in the costume of Raggedy Ann, a doll made popular by the story in a new juvenile publication.

We all screamed with laughter. "You clever girl!" Betty said with delight. "My party can't help being a success now!" Then she led the way to the kitchen.

I found myself between Frank Weed, and Gardner Kenyon. Marion Hovey was on his other side and then Robert. Mary Ryan was between Carson Murphy and Jack Adler, while Betty and Jane took the other two places.

Each one had to read aloud before supper was served what Mary had written on their place cards. Betty informed us. The jingles were apocryphal, and every one was laughing. Mary seemed to have a flair for that sort of thing, and had really outdone herself.

I noticed that Gardner Kenyon was immensely interested when he was told that Mary had written the jingles, and I had a bit of jealous feeling when I saw him look repeatedly in her direction.

It took us some time to quiet down after reading the nonsensical things, and then Betty said: "Raggedy Ann, will you assist with the soup?" and Marion rose with an elaborate curtsy signifying her willingness to be waitress.

The potato soup served in paper cups was delicious. Then as an entrée we had pork and beans.

"Not one of the 57 varieties either; these are home grown," Marion said as she passed the wooden plate. After that came the main course, corn beef and cabbage.

How we did eat, and what a good time we had! Robert was more like himself than he had been in weeks and weeks. We had our coffee with the dinner, and Betty proposed a toast to him, the honor guest of the evening, at the same time apologizing to Gardner Kenyon, and telling him she would give another party for him some day.

You are Welcome

To this way to white teeth

All statements approved by high dental authorities

You see white teeth wherever you look today, for millions of people use a new teeth cleaning method. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. You are welcome to a ten-day test, and you owe it to yourself.

Film dims the teeth

The teeth's great enemy is film. It clouds their beauty and it destroys the teeth. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Film is the viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Very few people escape the effects of it.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, which attacks 95 in 100.

The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve film, so old methods fail to end it. Dental science has for years sought the right way to combat it, for tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

The method has now been found. Convincing clinical tests have amply proved its efficiency. And now the way is embodied, for daily use, in a dentifrice called Pepsodent.

Three unique results

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But now a harmless activating method permits its constant use.

Two other new-day requisites are also found in Pepsodent. So this tooth paste in three ways brings whiter, safer teeth.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Results are clear and quick, and our book explains them. Make this test and judge them for yourself. Cut out the coupon now.

The Man Who Won

As it happened the secrets of both men concerned the same thing. They knew it not they were engaged upon the same quest. And in the pursuit of it they were to come in contact with the same woman—Barbara Le Moine being entirely unconscious of that fact. Longfield had a great advantage in her acquaintanceship; for when she at last met Keene, she supposed she had never seen him before. Later she was vaguely conscious that he reminded her of some thing or somebody. The delayed reminder was so faint, however, that she presently forgot it.

Keene was seeking a woman—a woman he did not know—whose name he had never heard. He felt by no means sure that he would recognize her if he found her. That she had been at one time on the North Pacific coast of the United States, that she was young and elegant, that she had the whitest neck and arms, that she had helped him—these made up the totality of recollection. He could not even recall whether she was dark or fair. Not much was there on which to build a hope. Few facts were there on which to base a search. Yet he must find her.

He did not love her. Oh, no! But through her and through her alone could he achieve a certain design to which he had given himself wholeheartedly. In the attempt to bring about that achievement he had suffered and struggled amazingly. He had pitomized the incredible, through difficulties inexpressible, over unknown lands and across trackless seas, with but a single comrade of his race, he had reached his goal. Step after step the journey had been marked by lives, deaths by blood. He had lost his best friend on the way. And now, failing the discovery of the woman, or a miracle, he was halted on the verge of final success. Miracles had not happened heretofore in Keene's hard adventurous career, nor did he expect them now, therefore to find the woman was his only recourse. Unwittingly she had his secret. Whether she concealed it in scabbard or under rock or babbling it like a brook, which he cynically thought might be the average woman's way, he must have it. Yet he had a feeling that she was not an average woman and in that he rested.

For Keene had forgotten where it was on the shore his Malays had attacked him! That blow on the head had done just that, nothing more. Up to the last shot at the sun before the fog to which he had made his landing, the drift through the fog, the river, the shore, the battle, he remembered everything; after that, nothing! There had been a mnemonic break in his life. A period had gone. The great erasure lay between the battle on the unknown shore in the mist and the awakening in the hospital at Hawaii. Everything else was clear to him. He could trace the whole terrible journey. Every desperate endeavor, every infinite hazard, every obstacle, natural and human, was etched upon his brain.

He knew how he and young Seymour had fled from Baku on Lake

Caspian, at the foot of the Caucasus, where he represented a great American corporation, when the Russian Revolution had broken out. He recalled the great idea that had come to him as he drove his motor boat northward across the windlashed waters of the great inland sea. He knew how later on with Seymour's devoted backing he had fought with the rude miners of the Urals, matching his cunning and wit and strength against theirs, to get what he wanted—what he would almost give his soul to get again.

He could vividly recall the incredible journey, the Germans and their creatures in the revolution, who had got wind of his design just too late, had forced him to take by closing the ordinary routes to him. It would have been comparatively easy to have gone north from the mines and to have taken the Trans-Siberian

Railway to Vladivostok. But that was barred by the German influence. He laughed as he thought how he had outwitted the Huns and their omnipresent agents. He had packed his precious cargo across the mountains, down the sea, over the desolate sun-blasted plain of Turkestan via the ancient Oxus River, and into China, over the fearful horrors of the almost untrodden, well-nigh impassable Baroghil Pass.

He remembered how he had toiled up the historic Ladus with an ever-changing set of bearers, spurred to terrific feats of progress in the wild

Himalayas by the strenuous admonition and desperate energy of their two white masters. Man after man had died. The way he had come was marked by corpses rotting, or bleaching, or freezing, but he had kept on. And yet, by each body, rotting in the rain, or bleaching in the sun, or freezing amid the snow, aly a weight of precious cargo, to bring which no price had been too great to pay. What he had perforce left behind for lack of human transport had been invaluable, but what he managed to carry on was enough.

To Be Continued.

SOCIETY-CLUBS-HOME

The marriage of Miss Elsie Belch, daughter of Prof. A. L. Belch, and Mrs. Belch, Columbus Grove, and Roy E. Gribben 929 N. Main-st., took place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. (Dr.) David F. Helms, superintendent of Lima district Methodist churches, read the service, received the vows and pronounced the benediction in marriage.

The ring ceremony was used. Some but Mrs. Helms witnessed the impressive service, which was read in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Gribben, No. 11 St. Elmas apartments.

The bride wore a suit of navy tricot with a wide white circle of friends, who will be much interested in her marriage. Mr. Gribben has been for many years in the employ of the Ohio Electric Railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Gribben will receive their friends in their own home after May 1.

A most delightful surprise was rendered Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Deacon, S. Elizabeth-st., on Monday evening by a circle of friends, in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mr. Deacon. The couple accepted with pleasure an invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Glover and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Babbitt to motor to Wapakoneta where a 6 o'clock dinner was enjoyed. Upon their return they found their home filled with guests. Miss Glover and Leona Vogel held high score at the conclusion of the evening of cards and Perry Roderer, and Mrs. Roderer were consoled. Social chat and music afforded entertainment during the remainder of the evening. Mr. Deacon was the recipient of a number of attractive gifts.

The hostess was assisted in the serving of a delicious luncheon by Miss Hanna Tangeman and Mrs. Keller.

Those enjoying the delightful affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Roderer, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Roderer, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stanyer, and son, Oakes; Mr. and Mrs. Roderer, and Mrs. M. Anspach. Miss Hanna Tangeman and Cordele Perrowe, Mrs. Irene Babbitt, Mrs. Mabel Harter, and Miss Mary Harter, Leonard Vogel, Miss Alice Pearl, and Master Raymond Roderer.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Root, 1916 E. Market-st., celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary with a dinner at their home on Thursday evening. H. P. MAUS PIANO HOUSE

The tables laid for the annual dinner of the Allen county Welfare Association at the Lima club Monday evening were unusually attractive. Place cards were daintily affairs and upon them was a procession of children marching after a miniature milk wagon, filled with cans of the necessities of life which so many children in Allen-co are deprived of. Covers were laid for more than fifty.

The President, Dr. Josephine Pierce, first called upon the Secretary and Field worker Miss Anna Moore for her yearly report, which was one so filled with facts that it astounded every one. She told of visiting two hundred homes, during the year where children were needing help, of the many cases where children had been given much needed treatment by local specialists, of the fine playgrounds in Lima; of the work done in three in handicraft and other ways. She related the outdoor work started on. School with great success, of the great progress made at the Lincoln Park Fire station, where twenty-seven social gatherings have been held during the winter.

Tickets to worth while entertainments have been given to boys and girls.

The Library extension work has expanded and books sent where most needed. A recent drive for the Children's Dept. of Public Library, resulting in much success and many promises of aid soon.

During the year this association has given protective care to seven children for whom they assumed entire responsibility and have assisted eleven more needy ones.

Mr. Arganbright, county superintendent of public schools was the next speaker who told of the great success in the county in introducing The Health Campaign, under Miss Anna Cunningham, provided by the State for this valuable work. Allen co. is the second county to have her services. He introduced Miss Niki, the Rural and Village nurse for our county. She spoke briefly of her inspection of schools and of introducing the Normal Health Club of how children had improved in every way.

Walter Parmenter who has been an earnest worker in the Association ever since its organization, eight years ago, spoke briefly upon the aims of the members and then introduced the principal speaker of the evening C. V. Williams, State Director of Child Welfare with headquarters at Columbus.

Mr. Williams is a man filled with enthusiasm for his work and has been recognized all over the state as an authority upon the subject. His work has attracted the attention of not only America but also foreign countries who at present have representatives studying the code of work in Ohio for Children.

Love And Married Life

By IDA MCGLOTH GIBSON

A WOMAN'S HAPPINESS

"Do you know, John," I said suddenly, "that I think you and I could be very good friends and very happy, the married (John made little of this), if we only saw each other semi-occasionally."

"Don't get that into your head, Honey. I want you. I want you all the time."

But I am going to stay down here for some months. Don't you think that it is best?"

"I certainly do no. I would like to have you come up and see the new house. We can take possession at once. It will give you something to think about beside yourself."

"And you too, John. Are you sure that I think too much about myself?"

"IT'S ALL WRONG"

"Of course you do, dear, every woman thinks too much about herself. If you see she doesn't have enough work to engross her interest, I am talking now of the women in America's middle class," he said.

"Women whose husbands protect and care for them. It is all wrong, Katherine. A woman should make as much business of her home as a man does of his office."

"Why, you are talking just like Alice."

"Oh, I am talking sense. I don't believe in all that hush that Alice spouts. But I do believe that most men are too indulgent with their wives."

"Meaning you," I said.

"John had the grace to blush. 'Oh, I am throwing bouquets at myself,' he said."

"Has Goodwin gone down south to look after the oil property?" he asked abruptly, as he wandered about the room and apparently caught sight of a card on which Charlie had scribbled good-bye to me.

"Yes, he went down before yesterday. He is probably there now," I remarked.

"I didn't see it," I answered.

GOODWIN OLD FOGYISH

"I must wish I had gone with Charlie," was his next remark. "Even you didn't care for me to butt in."

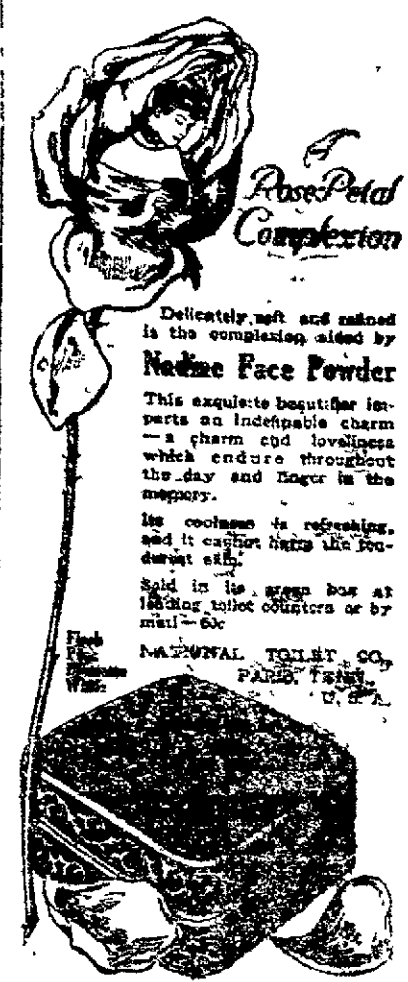

"I believe I have the up-to-date way of doing business and Goodwin is the old-foggy, at least I think so."

over. No, a woman builds her house of happiness as children build their playhouses—of little things that others, perhaps, might call tawdry. Tomorrow—Hush and Her children.

RENTERS!

WOULD YOU—

think it economy to rent a suit of clothes to wear, and pay for it several times over before the suit was worn out? Then why not buy a home for your family instead of helping out your landlord? A small cash payment starts you, your monthly rent money takes

AUTO DRIVERS MUST DIM LIGHTS, CHIEF DECLARES

Topping numerous traffic regulations now in force here, Police Chief Roush Tuesday announced enforcement of another city ordinance regarding automobile drivers.

The latest mandate pertaining to automobile owners requires that bright headlights on machines be dimmed within the city limits.

"Automobile men must equip their cars with dimmers or use smaller power lights. Failure to abide by the order will result in arrest," Roush said Tuesday.

Two traffic violators were fined
$1 each in Criminal court Monday for operating without headlights.

the death of Alexander Hempstead, 53,
Civil War veteran.
Hempstead dreamed that he was on a load of lumber which began to tip over. In the dream he ran to the back of the wagon to jump off but

RINGGOLD, GEORGIA, MAN WRITES

A thankful letter about the benefits received from using Sulphor Tablets. Its effects are like grandmother's remedy of sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. But this consists of sulphur, cream of tartar and herbs in a sugar-coated tablet, easy and pleasant to use, for bad blood, stomach, liver and bowel disorders.

Mr. John M. Plemons, Ringgold, Georgia, writes: "I had an awful bad case of stomach trouble and constipation, and had the service of a specialist with only temporary relief. I saw an advertisement of Sulphor Tablets and began using them, and in a short time noted very good results, and I further used them, and at this time am perfectly well as far as I can tell. I don't recommend anything unless I receive some good results. Some friends use them, and they also note good results."
Sulphor Tablets are sold everywhere.
Don't take ordinary "sulphur" tablets and be disappointed.

MUTT AND JEFF—"MAC" PICKS HIS PINCH HITTERS WITH RARE JUDGMENT—

Short Shavings

Count de Lescapade, who has been any of his family's adventures in the past. One morning he was up early, fast a beautiful breakfast was served. The count was greatly distressed and the cook, "Nora," more of the not will be broken, it always happens so.

"Are you superstitious?" asked the count, "I really believe that two more will be broken."

"I know it."

"Then let's get it out of our minds," he said. And taking two of the cups by the handle, he dashed them together. The anger and dismay of the countess proved that she had not seriously held to her superstition.

As the police patrol strolled along on his first turn of night duty, loud yells of "Fire!" rent the air. He halted quickly to the spot and found a house well alight, with a man half hanging out of an upstairs window.

"Help! Help!" he yelled. "If I jump will you catch me?"

"Sure, an' Oi will!" replied the policeman.

When the man jumped, he crashed to the ground and lay there stunned. When, a few minutes later, he recovered consciousness, he looked up at the constable reproachfully and murmured feebly:

"I thought you said you could catch me."

"Bogorah!" replied the Irish constable, "you was only waiting for yez to bolter an' Oi'd have had yez!"

"Are you going to garden next summer?"

"Beyond a doubt," replied Mr. McGraw. "It made such a heavy load of implements and fertilizer that I've got to protect my investment."

A Woman's Message to Women:

COSMOPOLITE WASH.

"Three years ago I was sick from a severe pelvic trouble, for which I had no relief, but was not relieved of my suffering, and was told nothing more could be done to improve my condition. My husband found me in the paper and ordered a sample, and upon receiving it, immediately bought a full course of your Cosmopolite Treatment, which I used as directed, and I am a well woman today. I certainly do recommend your treatment very highly for I positively know what it will do, and hope others will see as I do." MRS. C. A. ARNOLD.

R. F. D. No. 4, BATAVIA, N. Y.

"I am sender for your Cosmopolite Treatment for my pelvic trouble, as I have used it myself and know what it will do. I was a terrible sufferer from female disorders, ulceration and weakness, and dreamed around for two years. Then I used your treatment, and at the end of two months I was perfectly healed and have never been troubled since, so I can't praise your medicine enough. Give my name if it will help anyone else to get well, and I know it will if they use it right." MRS. H. S. PARKER.
